

Bail by Coroners.

No. XVII.

An Act for continuance of Temporary Acts. TEMPORARY ACTS CONTINUANCE.
[3rd May, 1861.]

BE it enacted by the Queen's Most Excellent Majesty by and with Preamble.
the advice and consent of the Legislative Council and Legislative Assembly of New South Wales in Parliament assembled and by the authority of the same as follows:—

1. Where any Bill for continuing any temporary Act shall have Bills for continuing temporary Acts to operate from expiry
though passing
afterwards been introduced into Parliament and be still pending at the date of such Act expiring such Bill upon receiving the Royal Assent shall unless otherwise enacted therein be deemed to have taken effect in continuing such temporary Act on and from the day of its so expiring Provided that no person shall be subjected to any punishment penalty but no penalties incurred in the interval.
or forfeiture for or in respect of anything done or omitted by him contrary to any provision of the continued Act between the day of its so expiring and the date of such Assent.

2. This Act shall be styled and may be cited as the "Temporary Short title.
Acts Continuance Act of 1861."